Integral Spor

Integral Group is a specialised organization that builds and manages sports facilities projects and produces sports equipment. It provides these services by exporting to 90 countries and provides services with 13 different brands. It carries out the construction of sports facilities under the "Integral Sports" brand.

Added value to ESSMA

It employs staff who are experts and have a lot of experience in "sports facility design and construction". In addition, it has agreements within the framework of "solution partnership" with academicians, individuals and companies such as architectural offices, project managers, construction managers, lawn experts who are experts in their fields and have a lot of experience in their sectors. It has carried out many projects for a long time with experienced suppliers and implementing subcontractors for the manufacturing of sports facilities.

It is a supply point where the customer can obtain almost the entire project from start to finish with a single contact person, with its products developed at international standards and many brands for sports facility needs.
